SALEM KIWANIS KLIPPINGS

THE NEWSLETTER OF THE SALEM KIWANIS CLUB
Serving the greater Salem Community since 1921

This B-17 Flying Fortress, used as a canopy for a gas station in Milwaukie Oregon for nearly 64 years.

KOD

Today's KOD was Clay Freeman. Clay is a man of many interests and many talents. The central theme of his skills is service to others. His many interests include music, theater, and missionary work. In high school Clay was taught music by Glenn Miller's brother Herb Miller. He even played in the Glenn Miller band when he was in high school.

He began working in the food service industry as a young man and became a head chef in fancy hotels. Then he became a music teacher and taught drama & music.

Clay became a pastor in 1983 and was with the Salvation Army, again in service to others.

Our program today was presented by Terry Scott, Executive Director of the B-17 Alliance. Together with her husband Jayson Scott, they formed the B-17 Foundation to preserve and restore the "Lacey Lady" WWII B-17G "Flying Fortress" bomber.

The mission of the alliance is to restore the aircraft to her original flying condition.

The alliance now has a home and museum at the Salem Airport.

Escorted tours are available for groups and student tours.

The museum and restoration hangar is open Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays 10am - 2 pm.

In addition to the museum and tours, there is a B-17 Alliance Veterans Coffee Club group that meets every third Thursday 10 am to 11:30.

A group of volunteers are working together to bring the story of this unique history of a nation coming together to preserve freedom for all.

A good crowd sits down for breakfast.

A good day for big hats.

Key Club young ladies were a big help.

Bill Hansen's daughter Beth did a fantastic job making pancakes.

Laura Hildebrandt was amazing on the cash register.

Signs of the times.
