MEMBER

Our featured member today was Chad Clemens. Chad is the grandson of Shirley Clemens and is one of our newer members. He grew up in Salem and after getting his bachelors degree went on to get a masters degree. He has been married for two years to Juliana. Chad is in commercial and residential real estate.

Chad asked his fining questions about Amazon.

SPEAKER

Our guest speaker today was Rob Del Mar. Rob is a Senior Policy Analyst with the Oregon Department of Energy. The two images below, 2000 and 2018, from the Oregon Department of Energy's Solar Dashboard shows the growth of Oregon's solar industry over the past two decades. The yellow indicates commercial solar installations, the orange - residential and the red - utility installations.

This indicates the rapid expansion of Oregon's solar facilities that has occurred in recent years, not only in terms of large-scale utilities, but also the prevalence of smaller-scale residential and commercial systems.

Indicators also show the dramatic decrease in the cost per watt of solar electricity since 1999 — a reduction of approximately 75 percent. The Oregon Dept. of Energy developed the dashboard "as part of a larger effort to quantify trends in the energy sector and make data available to stakeholders in user-friendly formats."
