COVID-19 Affects All Of Us, Kiwanis Meetings Cancelled

Bracing the nation for a grim death toll, President Donald Trump on Sunday, March 29th, extended the voluntary national shutdown for a month, bowing to public health experts who told him the coronavirus pandemic could claim over 100,000 lives in the U.S., perhaps significantly more, if not enough is done to fight it.

Palm Beach County has one new death and 383 cases as of Sunday.

As the seriousness of the Corona Virus escalates, it's important that we all adhere to the current health protection initiatives including social distancing, not shaking hands and not enter any public place if a the person exhibits any flu or COVID-19 like symptoms or has a fever over 99.9 degrees F.

Furthermore, The City of Delray Beach has issued a "stay at home" order and overnight curfew to stop the spread of the deadly coronavirus (effective Monday March 30th and will remain in effect until Thursday, April 16, 2020 at 11:59 p.m.). The City's new order requires that all residents of the City of Delray Beach stay at home and within the entirety of their owned or rented property. Delray Beach fears an influx of people from Broward and Miami-Dade counties, where nearly 2,000 confirmed cases of the coronavirus have led to restrictions on movement.

All city properties have been closed to the public including the Delray Golf Club, our meeting place. As of now, it's safe to assume we will not be meeting at the golf club or Finnegan's for at least another month, perhaps even until June.

We will keep everyone updated by email as to when we might be able to resume our weekly Kiwanis meetings. Until then, stay safe.

Colligan Wins PBC School Employee Of The Year

Ivy Colligan, Assistant to Orchard View Elementary Principal Lisa Lee, was selected as the School Related Employee of the year in Palm Beach County. One of her prizes is a car to use for a year. Our club will honor Ivy in May/June.

Congratulations Ivy!

Bob Barcinski

Here are the upcoming scheduled POTM's:

- April - Suzanne Fisher
- May - Larry Schroeder
- June - David Freeburn
- July - Jay Alperin
- August - Bill Morse
- September - Steve Rubin

Thank You!

A Gift To Orchard View. Our club gave $200 to the school for their "Principal's Account", which provides money for students who don't have enough money to buy lunch. Now students have a choice of a hot meal versus turkey on a piece of bread.

From Ernie Galinis..... "Thought you might like to know our oldest son, Bill, still serving in the US Navy, received his third star -- Vice Admiral and promoted to Commander Naval Sea Systems Command. Not bad for a kid who graduated from St. Vincent Ferrer, Atlantic High, serving as President of the Key Club, under Dr. Carl Carter, and the United States Naval Academy. GO NAVY!!!"

For those that may remember, Bill spoke to our club when he was a mere Captain. Congratulations Bill and to his parents Ernie & Betty.

From Doug Martin, referring to the cancellation of our meetings "habitually saving singles for my 'winning ticket'".

A guy walks into a bar with his pet monkey. He orders a drink, and while he's drinking, the monkey jumps all over the place, eating everything behind the bar. Then the monkey jumps on to the pool table and swallows a billiard ball.

The bartender screams at the guy, "Your monkey just ate the cue ball off my pool table -- whole!" "Sorry," replied the guy. "He eats everything in sight, the little bastard. I'll pay for everything." The man finishes his drink, pays and leaves.

Two weeks later, he's in the bar with his pet monkey, again. He orders a drink, and the monkey starts running around the bar. The monkey finds a maraschino cherry on the bar. He grabs it, sticks it up his ass, pulls it out and eats it.

The bartender is disgusted. "Did you see what your monkey did now?" he asks.

"Yeah," replies the guy. "He still eats everything in sight, but ever since he swallowed that cue ball, he measures stuff first."

I was out for a drink with the wife last night and I said, "I love you".

She asked me, "Is that you or the beer talking"

I said, "It's me.....I'm talking to the beer"!

The "Golden" Years ...

.... Working people frequently ask retired people what they do to make their days interesting.

Well, for example, the other day my wife and I went into town and went into a shop. We were only in there for about 5 minutes. When we came out, there was a cop writing out a parking ticket. We went up to him and said, "Come on man, how about giving a senior citizen a break?"

He ignored us and continued writing the ticket. I called him a Nazi turd. He glared at me and started Writing another ticket for having worn tires. So my wife called him a st-head. He finished the second ticket and put it on the windshield with the first. Then he started writing a third ticket. This went on for about 20 minutes. The more we abused him, the more tickets he wrote. Personally, we didn't care. We came into town by bus.

.... Two medical students were walking along the street when they saw an old man walking with his legs spread apart. He was stiff-legged and walking slowly. One student said to his friend: "I'm sure that poor old man has Peltry Syndrome. Those people walk just like that." The other student says: "No, I don't think so. The old man surely has Zovitzki Syndrome. He walks slowly and his legs are apart, just as we learned in class."

Since they couldn't agree they decided to ask the old man. They approached him and one of the students said to him, "We're medical students and couldn't help but notice the way you walk, but we couldn't agree on the syndrome you might have. Could you tell us what it is?" The old man said, "I'll tell you, but first you tell me what you two fine medical students think."

The first student said, "I think it's Peltry Syndrome."

The old man said, "You thought - but you are wrong."

The other student said, "I think you have Zovitzki Syndrome."

The old man said, "You thought - but you are wrong."

So they asked him, "Well, old timer, what do you have?"

The old man said, "I thought it was gas - but I was wrong, too!"

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT

From Jay Alperin.....

I got a call from my credit card bank.

The report was to confirm if I was traveling, and if I charged over $1,000 in two different Walmarts in El Paso. He then asked if I got the text alerts. No!

He repeated at least the last 6 valid charges I had, and some other personal information not accessible about me.

He checked with ATT and found a problem with my alert messaging.

He issued me new cards to arrive in two days and my account was closed.

He told me I would get a call from ATT in 10 minutes to fix the problem.

I was a little suspicious!

Two minutes later ATT called to report that my new phone 11 will arrive Thursday and my phone number will be switched at its arrival. I said I did not order one, and do not switch my phone number to the new phone.

She said this may be a scam order and gave me the address it was being sent to which turned out to be around the corner from my regular gas station.

She then asked to verify my four or six digit access code. Now I knew it was a scam, they have to have it in front of them and would know it was 4 or 6. I started asking them questions they avoided answering. I hung up and called my credit card bank and ATT.

No Walmart charges or new phone orders.

New cards coming and blocked access to ATT account.

ATT called it a Combo Punch, which is very new. What worries me is the amount of personal info they have. Equifax has no indication of attack on my account but remember its failure a couple of years ago! Maybe the info is just getting out.

Heads up!

There was a guy in a bar one night that got really drunk, I mean really, really, really drunk. When the bar closed he got up to go home. As he stumbled out the door he saw a nun walking on the sidewalk. So he stumbled over to the nun and punched her in the face. Well the nun was really surprised but before she could do or say anything he punched her again. This time she fell down and he stumbled over to her and kicked her in the butt. Then he picked her up and threw her into a wall. By this time the nun was pretty weak and couldn't move. So then he stumbled over to her, put his face right next to hers and said. "Not very strong tonight, are you Batman?"

Carlene Laseter - Chairperson

On Being President of the Club

by Melanie Winternheimer,
 Executive Director - Treasurer-Florida District of Kiwanis

This is such an exciting time of year to be a Kiwanian! Clubs are beginning their club elections for the 2020-2021 year. By the end of June our club leaders will have attended their training sessions and be given the tools to lead their club to success.

It makes me recall when I first became a club president and how anxious I was to "take the reins". While I was a little nervous, I was filled with gratitude to be provided with the chance, knowing there may never be another leadership opportunity that compares being the president of a Kiwanis club.

I sadly shake my head when I hear a club president say something like "ugh, only 51 more weeks to go", "wow, miss a meeting and they make you president" or worse yet to hear them talk about counting down the days on the calendar with big red X's. When a club elects its president it isn't a punishment. It is an honor and a privilege! They are telling the new president "We know you can lead us to success!"

If you are getting ready to "take the reins", here are a few ideas to help you get started:

1. Be the right example for your members to follow. You can't expect the best from them if you aren't willing to give them YOUR best.
2. Whatever your club attempts, be supportive, enthusiastic and passionate. Attitude is contagious so make your attitude worth catching!
3. Set your goals high but make them realistic. To no small degree, the success of your club will depend on the leadership you exhibit.
4. Be quick to give the credit to others when things go right but be even quicker to accept responsibility if things don't go as well as expected. And finally,
5. A Kiwanis club is not a one person operation. Don't dwell on making your mark on your club but concentrate instead on helping your club leave its mark on the life of a child.

"Please Step Up & Become Our Next President"

For the past two years, we have been using the POTM method for filling the President's role. If anyone would like to be President for the full year, please speak up. That goes for being on the Board of Directors. Everyone is eligible and can have a chance to have regular input into the running of the club.

Use the tools that you will be provided with and give this experience everything you've got! You might just decide that you are ready to take your leadership skills to a higher level in the coming years and take advantage of the opportunities at the division or the district level!

Love being a Kiwanian. Love your club.
 Share it with others. Live it.

Mindful Eating

Mindful eating is maintaining an in-the-moment awareness of the food and drink you put into your body, observing rather than judging how the food makes you feel and the signals your body sends about taste, satisfaction, and fullness. Mindful eating requires you to simply acknowledge and accept the feelings, thoughts, and bodily sensations you observe—and can extend to the process of buying, preparing, and serving your food as well as consuming it.

For many of us, our busy lives make mealtimes rushed affairs or we find ourselves eating in the car commuting to work, at the desk in front of a computer screen, or parked on the couch watching TV. We eat mindlessly, shoveling food down regardless of whether we're still hungry or not. In fact, we often eat for reasons other than hunger—to satisfy emotional needs, to relieve stress, or cope with unpleasant emotions such as sadness, anxiety, loneliness, or boredom. Mindful eating is the opposite of this kind of unhealthy "mindless" eating.

Mindful eating isn't about being perfect, always eating the right things, or never allowing yourself to eat on-the-go again. And it's not about establishing strict rules for how many calories you can eat or which foods you have to include or avoid in your diet. Rather, it's about focusing all your senses and being present as you shop, cook, serve, and eat your food. While mindfulness isn't for everyone, many people find that by eating this way, even for just a few meals a week, you can become more attuned to your body. This can help you avoid overeating and make it easier to change your dietary habits for the better and enjoy the improved mental and physical well-being that comes with a healthier diet.

Answering Machine Messages

--- I don't want to bore you with metaphysics, but how do you know this is an answering machine?

Maybe it's a dream, or maybe it's an illusion, or maybe YOU don't really exist. One way to find out is to leave a message, and if it's reality, I will call you back.

---- I'm not at home today, and I might not be home tomorrow. So please leave a message after the tone. I didn't take a shower today, and I might not take one tomorrow. So if you don't leave a message after the tone, you might have to deal with me in person.

---- [Lots of phone pick-up noise] Hi, I'm a burglar and I was just about to steal Troy's answering machine. If you give me your name and number, I'll... Uh, I'll post it on the fridge where he'll see it. Uh... By the way, where did you say you live?

---- If you are a burglar, then we're probably at home cleaning our weapons right now and can't come to the phone. Otherwise, we probably aren't at home and it's safe to leave us a message.

---- I'm writing the definitive work on pain. I would like you to tell me how this machine makes you feel. Remember, be honest. This is for posterity.

---- [Loud heavy-metal music in background; raspy voice] Hello, this is the executioner. Joe can't come to the phone right now because he's DEAD! Leave a name and number and IF we decide to resurrect him, he'll call you back.

Here Comes "Little Johnny"

..... The Teacher says to the class:
Who ever stands up is stupid

Nobody stands up

Teacher: I said who ever stands up is STUPID!

Little Johnny stands up

Teacher: Johnny, do you really think that you are stupid?

Little Johnny: No Mrs, I just thought that maybe you are lonely being the only one standing.

..... "Mommy," Little Johnny asked, "do all fairy tales begin with 'Once upon a time'?"

"No, dear," she replied. "Sometimes they start with
'Darling, I'll be working late at the office tonight...'"

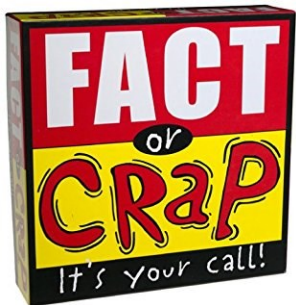

..... One day Little Johnny came home from school and asked his mom what they were having for dinner.

She said that it was a surprise and him and his brother would have to guess what it is after they try it.

Well dinner time came and they started eating it, but they couldn't figure out what it was.

So Little Johnny asked his mom for a hint. She said, "Okay, I'll give you a hint.

I call your father this. "Little Johnny said to his brother,
"Quick Bobby, spit it out, its asshole!"

International President's Corner

Daniel Vigneron
President of Kiwanis International

COVID-19 (coronavirus) & The Kiwanis Family

As we're all impacted by the spread of COVID-19 to some degree, Kiwanis International wants to keep members and the kids we serve safe during this time. We are asking all clubs to postpone all events — including in-person meetings, projects and fundraisers — through the month of April.

Up-to-date health information is available from the World Health Organization, your country's health department, as well as local governmental health agencies.

We realize that interactions with fellow Kiwanians will be missed, and we encourage you to find ways to connect during this difficult time. Skype, Facebook chats and conference calls on a landline or mobile phone are all options. These resources can help your club stay connected and plan.

Work together to generate ideas on how your club can help your community — and when things return to normal, you'll be ready to help kids.

Kiwanis will continue to serve you and provide ideas about how to continue making an impact. If you haven't followed us on social media, please do. Follow Kiwanis on Facebook for the most up-to-date news and information.

Thank you for all you do for Kiwanis. Let's work together to stay strong during this uncertain time so we'll all be healthy and ready to help those who need us most.

Are Clubs Covered from Coronavirus?

Planning is what Stu Peterson does as Kiwanis International's corporate risk officer. He's been answering a lot of questions since the coronavirus pandemic changed the way Kiwanis clubs around the globe operate.

"This is a situation you could never plan for," he says. "We're in uncharted waters."

Peterson has answered dozens of phone calls and emails during the past few weeks. Most questions have come from club presidents who want to know whether the Kiwanis insurance policy will cover their club if someone gets COVID-19 at a Kiwanis meeting or event.

Peterson's answer is simple: clubs are covered. But, he adds, the person who is sick will need to prove they were exposed to the virus at the Kiwanis event before the insurance company would pay out a benefit to cover health expenses or loss of income.

"It would have to be proven that they didn't have the virus before the event and then had it after the event," he said. "That would be very difficult to do unless they were tested before and after the function."

Peterson says the best option for clubs is to follow the advice of local health leaders.
