Responsible Angling Magnified

Our program on January 9th was presented by Nicholas Metropulos, the executive director of Fishing for Families in Need. The program was started in the Fall of 2008 with six children from the Florence Fuller Child Developmental Center in Boca Raton, FL. Since then, the program has taught thousands of children to be ethical anglers and good stewards of the sea through hands on classes with the help of hundreds of volunteers in the United States and the Caribbean.

program.

The educational programs range from 2-8 weeks long during the school year and summer with children ages 5-18 years old in multiple locations. Core topics taught include: invasive species, overfishing, ocean pollution, marine conservation, coastal habitats, and basic fishing knots, how to cast a fishing rod properly, and about what to carry in their tackle box.

In addition, the organization has provided thousands of meals of fresh fish to a local soup kitchen through the fishing tournament donation

They also continue to partner with local fishing tournaments and private individuals to provide local soup kitchens with any excess fish caught. The organization has been the recipient of multiple national and local awards.

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT

Put The Glass Down

A psychologist walked around a room while teaching stress management to an audience. As she raised a glass of water, everyone expected they'd be asked the "half empty or half full" question. Instead, with a smile on her face, she inquired: "How heavy is this glass of water?"

Answers called out ranged from 8 oz. to 20 oz.

She replied, "The absolute weight doesn't matter. It depends on how long I hold it. If I hold it for a minute, it's not a problem. If I hold it for an hour, I'll have an ache in my arm. If I hold it for a day, my arm will feel numb and paralyzed. In each case, the weight of the glass doesn't change, but the longer I hold it, the heavier it becomes."

She continued, "The stresses and worries in life are like that glass of water. Think about them for a while and nothing happens. Think about them a bit longer and they begin to hurt. And if you think about them all day long, you will feel paralyzed - incapable of doing anything."

Remember to put the glass down.

Not only are we saving lives as we have done through our Worldwide Service Project, but making lives better each day, one community at a time, one child at a time.

How do you share Kiwanis?

"I started to talk about the gift of Kiwanis. If I really care about other people, why would I not want to share with them the best that I have in my life?"

— Ray Mitchell, Indianapolis, Indiana

"By explaining what it means to me and the pleasure and joy I get out of it." — John Sheridan, Kingwood, Texas

"We had a member—a long-standing member who's a very proud Kiwanian—and he reached out to people like myself ... who were invested in kids' well being. Once we saw what it was about and what we could do on a local level, that's what grabbed hold of me. And that's what made me believe in the mission of Kiwanis."

— Bill Cunningham, Jersey City, New Jersey

What's your formula for sharing Kiwanis with others?

Doing Good....Feeling Good!

Remember, This is The Formula: Love being a Kiwanian. Love your club. Share it with others. Live it.

The woman seated herself in the psychiatrists office. "What seems to be the problem?" the doctor asked.

"Well, I, uh," she stammered. "I think I, uh, might be a nymphomaniac." "I see," he said. "I can help you, but I must advise you that my fee is $80 an hour."

"That's not bad," she replied. "How much for all night?"

The "Golden" Years ...

..... According to hospital regulations, patients are required to be escorted out in a wheelchair when being discharged. A student nurse was having some trouble with an elderly gentleman who insisted that he did not need a wheelchair. After some discussion about rules being rules, he reluctantly agreed. As she was wheeling him out, the student nurse asked the man if his wife was going to pick him up.

"I don't know," he replied. "She's still upstairs in the bathroom changing out of her hospital gown."

..... Three old buddies are out for a walk.

Old guy #1 says, "Windy, isn't it?"

Old guy #2 says, "No, it's Thursday!"

Old guy #3 says, "So am I. Let's go get a milk shake."

..... This old guy was talking to his neighbor telling him about the new hearing aid he just got. "It cost a fortune, but it was worth it. It works perfectly."

"Really," said the neighbor. "What kind is it?"

"Ten thirty."

A doctor of psychology was doing his normal morning rounds when he entered a patient's room. He found Patient #1 sitting on the floor, pretending to saw a piece of wood in half.

Patient #2 was hanging from the ceiling, by his feet.

The doctor asked patient number #1 what he was doing. The patient replied, "Can't you see I'm sawing this piece of wood in half?"

The doctor inquired of Patient #1 what Patient #2 was doing. Patient #1 replied,

"Oh. He's my friend, but he's a little crazy.

He thinks he's a lightbulb." The doctor looks up and notices Patient #2's face is going all red.

The doctor asks Patient #1, "If he's your friend, you should get him down from there before he hurts himself"

Patient #1 replies, "What? And work in the dark?"

A Closer Look at Antioxidants

Antioxidant is a catchall term for any compound that can counteract unstable molecules such as free radicals that damage DNA, cell membranes, and other parts of cells.

Your body cells naturally produce plenty of antioxidants to put on patrol. The foods you eat—and, perhaps, some of the supplements you take—are another source of antioxidant compounds.

Antioxidants are able to neutralize marauders such as free radicals by giving up some of their own electrons. When a vitamin C or E molecule makes this sacrifice, it may allow a crucial protein, gene, or cell membrane to escape damage. This helps break a chain reaction that can affect many other cells.

It is important to recognize that the term "antioxidant" reflects a chemical property rather than a specific nutritional property. Each of the nutrients that has antioxidant properties also has numerous other aspects and should be considered individually. The context is also important—in some settings, for example, vitamin C is an antioxidant, and in others it can be a pro-oxidant.

Articles and advertisements have touted antioxidants as a way to help slow aging, fend off heart disease, improve flagging vision, and curb cancer. Research findings suggest little overall benefit of the antioxidants in pill form. On the other hand, many studies show that people who consume higher levels of these antioxidants in food have a lower risk of many diseases. The bottom line? Eating a healthy diet is the best way to get your antioxidants.

Here Comes "Little Johnny"

....Johnny comes back home from school and tells his father, "Dad, tomorrow you are invited to a special parent meetings at school."

"How much special?"

"Well, just me, you, the director and two investigators from the FBI."

....An old man on crowded bus has trouble finding a seat.

The bus careened down the avenue, shaking the passengers from left to right, and the old man, unable to support himself properly with his cane, fell to the floor.

Little Johnny, sitting nearby, looked down at him and said, "If you put a little rubber cap on the end of your cane, you wouldn't fall like that."

The old man looked up and replied, "If your daddy had done the same, I would have a place to sit on this stupid bus."

Governor's Message

by Steve LeBlanc, Florida Kiwanis Governor

Today is Sunday, January 13, 2019. As I sit here in front of this glowing screen on a beautiful, warm morning in SW Florida, I find myself looking back on the first quarter of the Kiwanis year with a smile on my face.

Since our last message, Chris & I have had the privilege of completing twelve (12) more divisional visits, attended milestone achievement ceremonies, participated in Christmas parades, attended CKI and Key Club BOD meetings and aided our home club, Northside Naples, in carrying out a "revamped" version of our signature project, Christmas in Immokalee.

I am also very pleased to report that, as of December 31, the Florida District has the 2nd highest number of new members (207) in North America and 3rd highest in all of Kiwanis International. Things like that don't "just happen". It is a clear indication that members are becoming more engaged in aiding the growth of the organization and are creating a positive atmosphere which appeals to prospective new members. Thanks to all who have invited someone to join our organization. If you have not yet invited a friend to join, what are you waiting for? I know one thing for certain...100% of those we DO NOT ask to join, will NOT join.

I want to shine a light on two events which, in my opinion, demonstrate what we are talking about this year. First, we visited the Kiwanis Club of Rockledge in November to help them celebrate the 100,000th pair of new shoes provided to worthy children at their local elementary schools. This project has been continuously operating for over 50 years! And that is not a typo, they have provided over 100,000 pairs of shoes! We were totally blown away by this project! Hearing the history from members, praise from community members and the smiles on the faces of the children left an indelible mark on our hearts. This project truly represented how Kiwanis selflessly gives to make the community better and improve the lives of local children. (Seems I have heard those words somewhere before!)

Next, I want to tell you about the Longboat Key Kiwanis Club. This club was having its share of issues that crept in over time and the club was ready to close. They decided to hasten the liquidation of their foundation and thereby increased their scholarship distribution. At that ceremony, members heard student after student give testimonials to the importance of the club's generosity and the impact these funds had on their young lives. Collectively, the members had a "group Kiwanis moment" and decided the work they do is simply too important to their community to stop. (at this point, recall the KI magazine with the black cover and the title "What if Kiwanis Didn't Exist") Once the group decided to reverse their decision on closing, it was truly amazing how some of their problems were suddenly capable of being solved while others were no longer problems at all.

The point of both these examples is this: We have to step back and decide what is truly important. If your club can do this, your major problems become minor and your minor problems tend to solve themselves with a little civil conversation between members. We are here for the children, the community and the improvement of society as a whole and that should be the focus of all clubs and members.

As we head into 2019, we need to continue our impressive track record of the first quarter and all do our part to make this district the best it can be...and don't forget to smile, laugh and have FUN while doing it!

Thanks for all you do for our Kiwanis Family.

Steve & Chris LeBlanc
