The Need is Great. The Reward is Greater.

Our program on June 8th was presented by Kathie Kreh, the President & Founder of the African Orphan Educational Foundation.

Over 32 million children of primary school age are out of school in Africa. By 2030, just 1 in 4 will complete the equivalent of a high school education. Without education, hope and opportunity will bypass yet another generation.

African Orphan Educational Foundation (AOEF) identifies children of greatest need in the African villages they support and finds willing educational sponsors to pay it forward or leave a legacy. Caring individuals contribute financially. Their donation helps AOEF improve outcomes by covering primary, secondary, and post secondary education and personal development expenses of children in some of the poorest African communities in Uganda, Kenya, and Burundi, while providing needed support to hard-working U.S. mission and aid agencies administering ground operations in the villages they serve.

Together, they change the trajectory of a child's life. Ongoing oversight of the child's educational journey is provided by their carefully vetted partners who've been operating on the ground in these communities for years. For more information, go to <https://africanorphaneducation.org>.

Crossroads Club Provides A Safe Haven

Our program on June 15th was presented by Tony Allerton, The Executive Director of the Crossroads Club.

The Crossroads Club provides a safe haven for anyone whose life has been adversely affected by, or through, the use of addictive substances.

In early 1982, a small group of recovering alcoholics decided to start a facility for people who earnestly desired to maintain their total abstinence from alcohol and other drugs. This refuge would be open seven days a week; it would be a place of fellowship and camaraderie; and, of even greater importance, a place to enhance both spirituality and the inner strength to cope with addiction. Because those who suffered were at a literal crossroads in their lives, the name "Crossroads Club" was chosen.

As the years have passed, many more people have found their way to The Crossroads Club. Meeting space is provided weekly for Alcoholics Anonymous groups, Narcotics Anonymous groups, and other 12-Step groups.

Here are the upcoming scheduled PPOTM's:

July - Rich Pollack

August - Bill Morse

September - Steve Rubin

Thank You!

Pam Davidson initiated a project where our members agreed to participate in a weekly purchase of school supplies for needy children at Orchard View Elementary. If we all buy and bring some to the weekly meetings, we can significantly help these children in having the supplies needed. Children who cannot bring these supplies due to lack of resources often feel inadequate. This leads to low self esteem, a malady which follows them through life. Call Pam at 954-632-8043 if you have any questions.

Our club participated in the Juneteenth festivities at Pompey Park. Thanks to everyone that helped out.

Kiwanis Changes Lives

MAKE AN IMPACT

Ready to help children and families in your community? Ready to change the world? Kiwanis is ready for you! Altogether, more than 7,000 Kiwanis clubs make Kiwanians a powerful force for serving children and changing lives. Each club is an independent entity, with its own traditions and priorities.

WHO JOINS KIWANIS

Kiwanis club members believe in service. They care about children. They're interested in the community around them because the community matters to them.

They're people like you. Friends. Neighbors. Volunteers who want to make a difference. And they love to see the difference they make when they work together.

BENEFITS OF JOINING

Study after study shows that volunteering with an organization like Kiwanis does more than make people feel good. Volunteering enhances social networks, improves mental health and contributes to higher levels of happiness, self-esteem, self-worth and life satisfaction.

Volunteers develop life skills and leadership abilities that can lead to employment opportunities.

KIDS NEED KIWANIS

Kiwanis is the safety net that creates opportunities for children to be curious, safe and healthy regardless of the community in which they live.

Kiwanis is a positive influence in locations worldwide with a dream that all children will wake up in communities that believe in them, nurture them and provide the support they need to thrive.

Remember, This is The Formula:
Love being a Kiwanian.

Love your club. Share it with others. Live it.
Doing Good....Feeling Good!

NEVER MAKE A WOMAN MAD.
THEY CAN REMEMBER STUFF THAT HASN'T EVEN HAPPENED YET.

Abilities are Strengthened at EATSF

Our program on June 29th was presented by Molly Murphy, the Executive Director of Equine-Assisted Therapies of South Florida (EATSF).

EATSF is dedicated to providing therapeutic riding and equine activities to children and adults with special needs so that they may improve physically, mentally and emotionally. They envision a place where abilities are strengthened, where activities lead to self-confidence, and each person can experience life without limits.

Beginning as Horses and the Handicapped of South Palm Beach County in 1982, the organization and its stewards have remained vigilant to the ever-changing special needs community and societal changes. Today, Equine-Assisted Therapies of South Florida hosts 4 different programs:

Therapeutic Riding (TR): EATSF's largest program. Horseback riding gently and rhythmically moves the rider's body in a motion like the human gait.

Hippotherapy (HIPPO): A treatment strategy that utilizes equine movement facilitated by a physical, occupational, or speech therapist.

Unmounted Horsemanship (UH): An unmounted, learning-based program focused on teaching individuals of all ages and abilities about horsemanship and horse care.

Equine-Assisted Psychotherapy (EAP): An unmounted therapy program, open to individuals or group, starting at age 7. A licensed mental health professional works with the participant and horse to explore feelings and behaviors.

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT

If You're Over 60, the FBI Has a Major New Warning for You

Getting older comes with certain risks we're well aware of, from mobility issues to health conditions like dementia. But there are other risks that are easier to overlook, including the myriad scams and cons designed to take advantage of people over a certain age. Now, a former Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) director has issued an urgent warning for older people that you'll want to heed.

In a video public service announcement (PSA) posted on the FBI website on May 10, William Webster, who previously served as director of both the FBI and the CIA, issued a warning about elder fraud. Webster instructed older adults to pay attention to warning signs of these financial schemes, which purposely target older adults in an attempt to con them out of money or property. "Each year, millions of older Americans fall victim to financial fraud schemes," Webster says in the PSA. "Criminals gain older people's trust and then prey on their desire for companionship, love, or financial security."

Webster warns older adults not to fall for "scammers' promises." These scams are often conducted over the phone or through email, according to the Office for Victims of Crime (OVC) National Elder Fraud Hotline. Seniors are attractive targets, the FBI warns, particularly due to their tendency to be trusting and polite, as well as their likelihood to "have financial savings, own a home, and have good credit." "These are criminals who want to take one thing: your money," Webster says in the PSA. "You've worked hard. You've saved. Don't let criminals try to take that away from you."

Webster speaks from personal experience. In 2014, Webster himself was a victim of elder fraud. According to a press release from the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ), Keniel Thomas, a Jamaican national, contacted Webster and told him he was the head of the Mega Millions lottery game. He then proceeded to claim that Webster had won $15.5 million and a 2014 Mercedes Benz. Before being awarded the prize, Thomas said Webster would need to pay $50,000 "to cover the taxes."

Webster reported the incident to the FBI, and when he received a second call from Thomas the next day, the agency was able to record it. Thomas continued to make additional calls throughout the month, during which he said he had surveilled Webster's home. He also placed a separate call to Webster's wife, threatening violence if the Websters did not pay, the DOJ said. Thomas was identified in an investigation and arrested on Dec. 18, 2017 and sentenced to 71 months in prison in Feb. 2019.

Webster speaks of his experience during the PSA, stressing the severity of the problem. "I served in World War II and Korea. I was a federal judge. I was the director of the FBI, director of the CIA, and I was the target of an elder fraud scheme," Webster says, adding, "If it can happen to me, it can happen to you."

Officials urge older adults to report fraud when it happens. According to the National Elder Fraud Hotline, in 2018 alone, scams targeting older adults led to the loss of over $184 million. Now, the FBI estimates that amount has surged to $3 billion in annual losses.

In his PSA, Webster asks that anyone affected by elder fraud—whether it's you or a loved one—report it to the FBI by calling 1-800-CALL-FBI. You can also file a complaint with the FBI Internet Crime Complaint Center IC3 online at ic3.gov.

The National Elder Fraud Hotline also offers several resources on its website, assisting with the reporting process for free.

Don't get Thirsty

We need to drink about 5 cups of fluid every day to stop us from getting dehydrated. This is in addition to the fluid we get from the food we eat.

All non-alcoholic drinks count, but water, milk and fruit juices are the most healthy. Try to avoid sugary soft and fizzy drinks that are high in added sugars and can be high in calories and bad for teeth.

When the weather is warm, or when we get active, we may need more. Pay attention to what your body is telling you.

The "Golden" Years ...

--- THE SENILITY PRAYER:

Grant me the senility to forget the people I never liked anyway, the good fortune to run into the ones I do, and the eyesight to tell the difference.

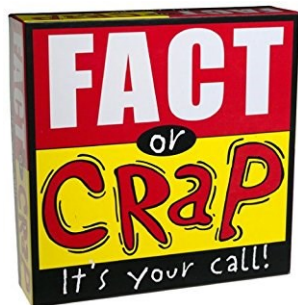

--- A young man who was also an avid golfer found himself with a few hours to spare one afternoon. He figured if he hurried and played very fast, he could get in 9 holes before he had to head home. Just as he was about to tee off an old gentleman shuffled onto the tee and asked if he could accompany the young man as he was golfing alone. Not being able to say no, he allowed the old gent to join him.

To his surprise the old man played fairly quickly. He didn't hit the ball far, but plodded along consistently and didn't waste much time.

Finally, they reached the 9th fairway and the young man found himself with a tough shot. There was a large pine tree right in front of his ball and it was directly between his ball and the green. After several minutes of debating how to hit the shot the old man finally said, "You know, when I was your age I'd hit the ball right over that tree."

With that challenge placed before him, the youngster swung hard, hit the ball up, right smack into the top of the tree trunk and it thudded back on the ground not a foot from where it had originally lay.

The old man offered one more comment, "Of course, when I was your age that pine tree was only 3 feet tall."

Executive Perspective

by Stan D. Soderstrom, Executive Director of Kiwanis and the Kiwanis Children's Fund.

Have you ever read all the Kiwanis International Bylaws? Be honest. Our bylaws consist of 29 pages with 15,689 words. They were originally drafted and adopted in 1916 and have been amended and added to at every convention since.

So it shouldn't be a surprise that our governing document now has internal contradictions, confusing language and overly specific information. There's Article 8, Section 3, which "permits" members to wear Kiwanis-branded clothing. And there's the article on committees, which tells us — among many other things — that committee members serve for the year for which they are appointed. (Thanks, bylaws.) Oh, and that committees must have at least three members, unless they're "special" committees. Whatever those are, they apparently need only one member.

Even the process for amending the bylaws is hard to follow within the bylaws themselves. The bottom line: They often create more problems than they solve. They have become too complicated and even outdated. It's time to modernize.

During the Kiwanis International convention, we'll ask the House of Delegates to consider a new article. Yes, it will add another 152 words. But it will also give delegates the authority to revise the entire document periodically. With this article, a proposed set of modernized — and streamlined — bylaws can be considered next year.

It's always tempting to try solving problems with more rules. But our bylaws show what happens when we don't stop to look at the big picture. For Kiwanis clubs, which must abide by them, it's high time to make them easier to follow.
