HAPPY BUCKS.

Brent Burnside. Happy back for us being back at the American Graffiti Museum. Also for the car show organizing.

Anna Kanbara, missed a meeting as was at a Back Street Boys concert.

Steve Collins, a car accident on the way to see the MJC foundation. Did a 360 in intersection. Luckily was not hurt.

Gary Goodman, following up on Steve's buck, he saw a blatant red light runner. Be careful out there.

Robert Hussman, went to the Kiwanis convention, was on the vote counting committee.

Lori Rosman, Robert did not walk the stage as Lt Gov last year but she is happy he got to this year.

Kyle Barker, A memory buck. 60 yrs ago he was 15 and in Montana and asked to play for a group. He advised the group to try out his two young friends Cheryl and Carol who were great singers. He ended up touring all over the west with the 'Imperials' who were quite a successful group. Kyle just saw them in concert in Pasadena again.

Abigail Power, sad 20, lost a marital argument. She insisted that she and her husband Harrison need not wear their Kiwanis aprons to this meeting. Turns out Harrison was right!

Aaron Kellums, won't be here next week; It is car week in Monterey.

Susie Powers, Del Rio car show. Enjoyed mingling and music Young bands and experienced bands. Brent and Susie were able to give Jennifer a ride on their Harley Aaron Kellums. Sad buck. Jennifer was not on the birthday list and he is sorry she was missed. But Jennifer then admitted the August birthday is a specious birthday purely for her online presence and we did get her real birthday in June!
