

Lieutenant Governor Training

Brad Boyd, Kiwanis International Area Director

In tribute to Indy's own David Letterman

Opinions shaped by training future leaders and serving as a lieutenant governor

- Best practices gleaned from nine years of training lieutenant governors and other district leaders
- Personal observations from serving as a lieutenant governor myself
- Lessons learned during the pandemic

David Letterman Belly Laughs

- “My greatest fear in life is being dull. You can be great, you can be awful, but just don't bother being dull.”
- “Next in importance to having good aim is to recognize when to pull the trigger.”
- “If what you've done is stupid, but it works, then it really isn't all that stupid.”
- “Anything worth doing is worth overdoing.”
- “There is no off position on the genius switch.”
- “There's not a man, woman or child who doesn't enjoy a tasty beverage.”
