CLUB OF MISSION VIEJO

MADNESS NEWSLETTER—NOVEMBER 6, 2022

ROD WILBERT was the host Tuesday for the presentation by Mission Viejo Community Services Director Mark Nix. Mark explained the many transportation and nutritional services available at the Murray Center. He also discussed activities at the North Paseo area at the site of the former Stein Mart building. A Farmer’s Market is held weekly on Saturdays and in the evening from 5-9 p.m. every third Saturday.

Librarian Tran Guest Speaker

Allison Tran from Mission Viejo Library Children’s Department will speak to the Club on Tuesday. Pat Griggs will serve as the host for the speaker this week.

BLUE CHIP DIP WINNERS

Ollie, Pat and Keith. Congrats to Ollie for drawing the blue chip.

CALENDAR

NOV. 6: Roll your clocks back one hour.

NOV. 8: Speaker Allison Tran, Mission Viejo Library.

NOV. 15: Student Recognition, Fairhaven.

LARRY PIZZI (at right) fresh from a visit to Hawaii, inspects the pineapples which were dispensed at the Pack-it Market at the Murray Center on Friday. Melanie from the Murray staff reports a record 83 households were registered as shoppers. Since several same-household couples attend, there were nearly 100 people receiving food through the city program.

HAPPY & SAD DOLLARS

OLLIE was happy for a successful implant of a blood-clot protection device call The Watchman. He was sad that he left one of his prized homemade canes atop his car only to find it later shredded in the roadway.

PAT and HUGH ended up partners in a card game of Hand and Foot which they won, perhaps “handily.”

BILL reported taking his 94-year-old mother-in-law on a nostalgic visit to her alma mater in Fullerton where she received an impromptu ovation when people learned of her graduation in the 1940s.

LARRY CALLISON was fortified with a large cache of candy to share with Halloween visitors. Alas, not a single kid showed up to claim the bounty.

MARK NIX was sad he missed the opening song, but happy that the time will be changing soon.

JEFF was happy to have helped in the challenging pumpkin carving fun for son RYAN'S three children.

KEITH was happy to be back from a wonderful tour of many attractions in Oklahoma and Texas including a visit to the Will Rogers Museum and LBJ's Ranch.

GREG was happy for UCLA's football win and the rankings of several Pac-12 teams. He and KATHIE had a nice trip to Paso Robles. The visit included a special Winemakers Dinner where they were surprised to be sitting next to a couple who live two blocks from them in Laguna Niguel.

Last Change of the clock? Not So Fast!

According to the Reuters News Agency, a push in the U.S. Congress to make daylight-saving time permanent, which was unanimously passed by the Senate earlier this year, has stalled in the House of Representatives, with a key lawmaker saying they have been unable to reach consensus.

In March, the Senate voted to put a stop next year to the twice-annual changing of clock, however the House is divided. If they don't act before Dec. 31 the issue will have to be re-introduced.

Weird Sports of the World

Cycleball

This is a competition between teams of two. The goal is for teams to get the ball into the opposition goal using only the wheels of the cycle and their heads.

DIDJA KNOW?

Forever Stamps are increasing from 60 to 63 cents in January. The Post Office will exceed its budget by one billion dollars in 2022.
