The primary purpose of this club is to improve the quality of life for children and families worldwide by adhering to the Objects of Kiwanis International. The objectives were approved in 1924 and through the decades, they have remained unchanged.

- To give primacy to the human and spiritual, rather than to the material values of life.
- To encourage the daily living of the Golden Rule in all human relationships.
- To promote the adoption and application of higher social, business, and professional standards.
- To develop, by precept and example, a more intelligent, aggressive, and serviceable citizenship.
- To provide, through Kiwanis clubs, a practical means to form enduring friendships, to render altruistic service and to build better communities.
- To cooperate in creating and maintaining that sound public opinion and high idealism which make possible the increase of righteousness, justice, patriotism, and goodwill.

MORE MONTLY PROGRAMS

After working for years with several nonprofits in Northeast Grand Rapids, Michelle Hatfield branched out on her own. She started a new nonprofit, LIFT – Lifting Individuals for Today https:// www.facebook.com/profile.php?

id=61578633942293. One of her first programs is recreating a Christmas store where families can shop for presents at pennies on the dollar.

The Kiwanis of Michigan Governor Cindy Greening visited the club. She spoke about the declining membership in Kiwanis and the challenge to bring in new members. The district will have a Fall Leadership Conference in November with some outstanding speakers. She gave us examples of a few of the projects that her club does to support the children.

Virginia Scholtan with Young At Heart GR talked about their senior enrichment programs. They are supported in part by the Kent County Senior Millage. They welcome adults over 55 to engage with others and enrich their lives. They offer activities like Tai Chi, woodcarving, cooking, and cultural events.

POPULAR MOVIES AND TV SHOWS THAT HAVE NAME-CHECKED KIWANIS AND KEY CLUB OVER THE YEARS.

Kiwanis International has been serving the children of the world for over a century — and in that time, it has permeated popular culture as well. In movies, TV and written fiction, the presence of a Kiwanis club succinctly tells the audience that the setting is a community that helps out its less fortunate members. Characters might say they are Kiwanians to indicate a dedication to service or a thriving social life. Or they might mention an affiliation with Key Club to indicate that they are high achievers involved in their schools and communities.

Part one of the series is in the February edition of the newsletter. There are a total of 10 in the series. Look for more in the coming months.

"Hud" (1963)

In the critically acclaimed film "Hud," cynical rancher Hud Bannon (Paul Newman) wins a "pig scramble" — in which participants attempt to wrangle greased pigs — put on by the Kiwanis club in his Texas, U.S., community. Preceding the "scramble," the movie also depicts local teens doing The Twist in a dance contest, another part of what a banner proclaims to be the "June 7th Kiwanis Club Show."

Kiwanis Trivia

Kiwanis was defined as "an organization for men" in the constitution adopted at the Denver Constitutional Convention in 1924. In 1987, after more than a decade of debate throughout the organization, delegates at the convention in Washington, D.C., voted overwhelmingly to eliminate the gender requirement for membership.
