THE MICHIGAN DISTRICT OF KIWANIS INTERNATIONAL

JAMES B. DYE

GOVERNOR - MICHIGAN DISTRICT OF KIWANIS
1984-1985

Jim Dye is a contrast in character. A man who looks on the brighter side, yet explores the depths for reasons. A man who loves humor, being able to both give and receive a joke, and still, those close to him are aware of his serious nature. An aggressive business man who finds the time to give of his talents through the "volunteer" role that Kiwanis provides. A world traveler who finds that his business takes him to the far reaches of the globe, yet a family man devoted to each of his children and outwardly demonstrative of his affection.

From his early days when he was a drum major, Jim has continued to be out front of the group, showing his leadership abilities. Joining Kiwanis was an interest, but Jim soon found that he had a desire to change the course of events. He proceeded to guide his club, Saginaw Riverside, as its president in 1978-79, earning the distinction of being named a "Distinguished Club President." Bitten by the bug, Jim went on to become Lt. Governor in 1981-82, again being named as "Distinguished." After a year as District Sports Chairman, he threw his hat in the ring, and has moved through the Governor-Elect position to his present role as the Governor of the Michigan District of Kiwanis International - 1984-85.

When a free weekend allows, Governor Jim can be found on the banks on the AuSable River dropping a fly in the stream in hopes of teasing a trout or two. He also enjoys bowling, golf, a friendly game of cards, and is an instrument - rated private pilot.

Jim and Pat, his lovely wife of 34 years, have four children, a daughter, a son, and two Kiwanians. In addition, four grandchildren continue to brighten their days.

It is with a deep affection and respect for his abilities and his leadership that the 1984-85 Class of Lt. Governors places the name of James B. Dye, this article and his picture among the many outstanding Kiwanians honored by the title "Distinguished Kiwanian."
